— OVERVIEW

Heavy use and misalignment during install can open up the strike-side gap on the entry door, which makes it harder to latch and secure.

This hinge set is slotted on the column-mount side, so the owner's maintenance team can adjust the door's reveal in the field and close up the strike-side gap. The hinges are welded on, made to order in left or right hand, and arrive freshly powder coated to match the Portland Loo.

— KEY FEATURES
