OVERVIEW

California's building code (CBC Title 24, Chapter 11B) requires a geometric symbol on the door of every public restroom. For an all-gender restroom like the Portland Loo, that symbol is a 12" circle with a triangle superimposed and inscribed within it, vertex pointing up, in a color that contrasts with the door.

Madden Fabrication custom builds each sign from two layers of colored polycarbonate so it can flex to the Loo's curved front door instead of standing off it like a rigid flat sign. It arrives with Gorilla brand adhesive strips already applied, ready to surface mount.

KEY FEATURES

01 Built to Title 24 geometry

12" diameter circle with an inscribed, vertex-up triangle for all-gender restrooms.

03 High-contrast colors

Blue circle with a white triangle stands out against the door finish, as the code requires.

02 Made for the curved door

The two-layer polycarbonate build lies flat against the Loo's radius front door.

04 Ready to surface mount

Gorilla brand adhesive strips are pre-applied. No drilling and no fasteners through the door.

Mark the centerline 58"–60" above the floor, peel the liners, center the sign with the triangle's vertex up, and press firmly across every strip. Title 24 also calls for a tactile, braille sign beside the door; pair this sign with the All-User Restroom Tactile Placard.
